Introduction:

Congratulations on your decision to embrace your lives with Christ in the Sacrament of Matrimony. The St. Michael parish community affirms and supports you. Our community believes that matrimony is a lifetime covenant, open to Jesus’ invitation to lead fruitful lives of love and service. We confidently believe that you and your future husband/wife-to-be, will live together faithfully for better or worse, for richer or poorer, in sickness and health truly to the end of your lives. There are four distinct and separate stages of marriage preparation: (a) Remote: the life-long marriage preparation; (b) Proximate: the year before the wedding; (c) Immediate: two months before the wedding; and (d) Lastly, the actual celebration of the sacrament of matrimony. This marriage preparation process affects all four of these stages.

The Necessity of Faith:

Matrimony is one of the seven sacraments in the Catholic Church. A sacrament is an outward sign of God’s inward grace upon and within us. Today, theologians would say that the outward sign of this sacrament is the love of the husband and wife, and the inward grace is the love of Jesus Christ for His Church. The special grace received in the Sacrament of Matrimony is the continued sharing and fruitfulness of the love of Jesus Christ by a husband and wife.

In reality, people can approach such a reality, only if they have faith. Faith exists in different ways. There is a personal faith: a discovery of the mystery of God in life and a response to him with some degree of trust and love. There is a shared faith: the faith of this Christian community, as it lives out its commitment to Jesus Christ.
There is also institutional faith: a collection of believers and traditions of the Church and a code of moral conduct. By the time of the actual wedding, you as an individual should have a basic knowledge of the Catholic faith and hopefully, a desire to participate in continued religious education to learn more.

Faith has an added importance in the Sacrament of Matrimony because of the special role that parents fulfill in a family. Not only are you as a couple going to help each other grow as Christians, you are the first witnesses of faith to your children (the Domestic Church). You are your children’s first teacher about the Catholic faith by what you feel, think, do, and speak.

Marriage demands an adult commitment of faith that is complete and lasting. This requires a commitment from you and your future husband/wife-to-be in the preparation for this most important part of your lives together.

Marriage Preparation:

If neither the bride nor the groom is a registered member of the St. Michael Parish, you need to register in our parish. Registration in a parish is important; it says you wish to be a part of a particular faith community. If you are completing your marriage preparation in another parish or city, please have the marriage preparation documents sent to the parish. A formal process of preparation for all couples is governed by both parish and diocese guidelines. Additionally, there are several required documents. Refer to page 26-29 for a list.

Within the Diocese of Colorado Springs, there is a 12-month marriage preparation process involving any couple who wishes to wed. The process is comprised of six steps or stages, which include: (1) An initial parish meeting with the parish’s pastor or deacon; (2) FOCCUS inventory; (3) Natural Family Planning (NFP) training; (4) Marriage Preparation Classes; (5) A couple retreat; and finally, (6) A final meeting with the pastor, deacon, or parish level marriage coordinator.

NOTE: If either of you have been married before, regardless of religion, you must contact the Tribunal Office at the Diocese of Colorado Springs (719-636-2345) for an annulment, before you can enter into a sacramental marriage within the Catholic Church. There should not be any reservations or plans for any future wedding dates or RCIA completion until the affirmative sentence has been communicated in the form of the formal Decree of Nullity. An annulment or dispensation (as appropriate) must be applied for, and a favorable finding must be received by the parish and couple, before the marriage preparation process can be completed. After you have contacted the diocese, please let the parish priest know what has transpired, so we can help you prepare for your marriage.

Wedding Liturgy Planning:

To comply with the published guidelines from the Diocese of Colorado Springs, once you have decided to celebrate your marriage at the St. Michael Catholic Church, the first step is to contact the parish to arrange a meeting with the pastor or deacon.

During this initial meeting between the pastor or deacon and the couple, the couple will be asked questions regarding how/when they met; how long have they known each other; what sacraments have they received; future plans as a married couple; reviewing the marriage preparation requirements, etc.
Additionally, the pastor/deacon may also initiate the diocese’s marriage preparation checklist forms to determine the suitability of the couple for the sacrament of matrimony and to determine if any annulments and/or dispensations from the church’s Canon Law are required from the diocese’s bishop.

The first two issues in the wedding liturgy planning concern the place and the date and time of the wedding.

a. Place: Currently, in the Catholic Church, wedding liturgies are to be celebrated in the parish church in which the bride or groom are registered. The St. Michael Parish is a beautiful building that accommodates most of our parish sacramental celebrations; with a seating capacity of approximately 250. The church is air conditioned, has dressing rooms, and ample parking. Liquor in the church or its buildings (including the kitchen, classrooms, etc.) is not permitted before, during, or after the rehearsal or the wedding itself.

b. Date/Time: Generally speaking, a wedding liturgy may be celebrated on any day of the year with certain exceptions (e.g., weddings are not possible during normally scheduled Sunday Masses; non-availability of the church, priest or deacon, and musicians; Good Friday, etc.).

Because the tone of the church’s activities and celebrations during Advent and Lent are intentionally subdued, the scheduling of a wedding during these periods is discouraged.

To minimize last-minute scheduling conflicts and unnecessary frustration and anxiety, you must schedule the date and time of your wedding with the parish priest, deacon, and the main office before finalizing/printing/distributing invitations or reserving the after-wedding reception facility.

Personal Preparation:

In the midst of all the wedding preparation activity, it is important to include “personal preparation” which allows for the fruitful reception of the sacrament. The Church recommends that those to be married draw close to the Lord through the Sacrament of Reconciliation and the Sacrament of Eucharist.

Cohabitation: It has been proven in many studies that couples who decide to live together before marriage have a much higher likelihood of divorce than couples, who do not. The Church is obviously concerned about the high instance of divorce in this country and must question the need of the practice of cohabitation. Couples should do everything possible to avoid the scandal of cohabitation prior to marriage and should seek to live separately until then.

Required liturgical roles/functions/ministries:

The wedding liturgy has nearly identical requirements for additional individuals (in addition to the presiding priest or deacon) to fulfill required roles (e.g., proclaimers (readers); Extraordinary Ministers of Holy Communion (EMHCs); gift bearers; musicians; etc.). Weddings also have the unique roles of maid of honor, wedding party, best man, a ring bearer, etc.

Role of the Assembly:

Liturgical celebrations are not private functions, but are scheduled and coordinated celebrations of the Church. As such, when the assembly of people are gathered together to celebrate, everyone is encouraged to participate fully and actively throughout the liturgy—otherwise, it becomes more akin to an audience merely observing a show or a play.

(7)
Liturgical rituals/rites (e.g., baptism; wedding; etc.) were designed to be celebrated in a communal nature and in a communal setting. While the wedding liturgy will be especially special to you, your family, and friends, it equally affects the remainder of the local parish and the universal church, as a whole.

The Couple: the “real” ministers of the Sacrament of Marriage

The couple themselves are the real ministers of the Sacrament of Matrimony in that they give each other to the other via the exchanging of matrimonial consents (vows). The priest or deacon is simply the church’s official witness to the marriage.

Since you will be fulfilling the roles of the actual ministers of your own marriage, the St. Michael Catholic Church strongly advises against you assuming any other additional ministries during the liturgical celebration (e.g., proclaimer (reader); EMHC; etc.). During the wedding, you are naturally the center of everyone’s attention. By assuming multiple roles in the same liturgy, it causes undue “busy-ness”, and you perform roles, which others normally perform for you.

The Presiding Priest or Deacon:

If the wedding is to be celebrated within the Liturgy of the Mass, the presider must be an ordained Catholic priest. When the wedding is to be celebrated outside the Mass, an ordained Catholic priest or deacon may preside. If the marriage is celebrated on a Sunday or solemnity, the Mass of the Day is used with the nuptial blessing and, where appropriate, the special final blessing.

In accordance with Church’s Code of Canon Law, a general rule of thumb within the Roman Catholic Church stipulates that priests or deacons from outside the parish may only preside at weddings with the permission of that parish’s pastor.

Witnesses:

While the entire gathered assembly at your wedding liturgy are technically “witnesses”, and the priest/deacon are the church’s official witness, at least two of your invited friends and/or family fulfill unique roles in the liturgy and for the church’s official records. These two “witnesses” (who need not be Catholics or baptized) stand near or by you during the marriage rite and attest that the marriage actually occurred in the church, on the date and time, etc. While these two “witnesses” are traditionally one man (“the best man”) and one female (“the maid of honor”), it is possible to have two males or two females.

Bridesmaids/Groomsmen:

Bridesmaids and Groomsmen are typically members of the wedding party who assist the couple by fulfilling roles or functions during the liturgy (e.g., proclaimers (readers); ministers of hospitality; etc.) or simply by their presence with full, active participation in the liturgy.
The Music/Musicians:

In planning any liturgical event (including weddings), the importance of the choice of appropriate musical selections cannot be overstated. A church wedding is first of all a worship service; a celebration of praise and thanksgiving. The norms of liturgy musical selections are that they be: (a) participatory by the assembly, (b) dignified, and (c) befitting of church liturgy. Personal music choices should not contradict the church’s understanding and appreciation of marriage. Music must be appropriate for a Christian wedding. The music must express the faith of the Church and of the couple who will be present. The St. Michael Catholic Church is staffed with a professional Music Coordinator, who is eager to assist you in your musical planning. The wedding liturgy will be well worth the hiring of a professional musician and cantor (normally (suggested): $125.00 (pianist) and $125.00 (soloist)). We request that all musical selections be coordinated through the parish’s Musical Coordinator, at least a month in advance.

Other Ministry Roles/Positions:

a. Proclaimers/Readers: Specially trained, proficient, and selected parishioners read the Word of God at the Church’s Masses. Normal wedding liturgies have two scriptural passages (1 from the Hebrew Scripture (Old Testament) and 1 from the New Testament) which will need to be proclaimed (normally by family members or friends). People who serve as “readers” in their home parishes are generally good choices to ask to be readers at your wedding because of their familiarity with the role. If this is not practical, you may wish to select reader(s) from among the people attending the wedding.

b. Extraordinary Ministers of Holy Communion (EMHC):

If the wedding liturgy is to be celebrated during the Liturgy of the Holy Mass, there is a need for other ministers to assist the presiding priest with distribution of Holy Communion. These ministers are referred to as Extraordinary Ministers of Holy Communion (EMHCs). Similar to the aforementioned standards for proclaimers/readers, these ministers can be members of your families or friends. Note: In accordance with the Church’s Code of Canon Law and Diocese of Colorado Springs policy and procedures, EMHCs must be currently mandated by our bishop. If you experience difficulties in identifying EMHCs, please contact the parish office or priest for assistance.

c. Altar Servers:

Altar servers assist the priest or deacon during the Mass liturgy or service. Similar to proclaimers/readers and EMHCs, servers may be family members and/or friends. Altar servers are an integral part of the scheduled rehearsal before the event. If you (the couple) do not have any individuals who have past training and experience as altar server(s), please contact the parish office or priest for assistance. As a general rule, if a person has no prior experience or formal training as an altar server, it is best not to include them as ministers in this liturgical role/position.
d. Photographers, Photographs, and Videotaping:

For centuries around the world, still photographs and videotapes of special events in our lives have become our mental photo album and an attractive reminder of these events, especially a wedding. Naturally, we rely on the skills of trained professionals to assist us in this area, since to take the photographs ourselves would seriously interrupt the flow of the event. Over the years, the Church has compiled a set of norms or standards, which we at the St. Michael Catholic Church request your assistance in following. These include:

1. The couple needs to maintain communication with the designated photographer, to insure they are informed of the correct date and time of the event and any last-minute liturgical and schedule changes or adjustments.

2. The photographer should be positioned discreetly to the side and/or back of the church.

3. The photographer is asked to keep their movement(s) around and within the church to a minimum during the liturgy or service.

4. The photographer is asked to coordinate with the presiding priest before the liturgy begins regarding the taking of photographs during the consecration and elevation of the Communion elements (bread & wine).

5. Opportunity will be afforded the couple, family, friends, and photographer to take or re-take photographs after the Mass or service. We ask that you please be sensitive to other weddings or events scheduled afterward.

6. PLEASE do not interrupt the presiding priest or deacon during the liturgy or service at any time and/or ask them to “do that again, I didn’t get that shot.”

7. Over the years, the most prevalent difficulty during liturgies and services comes not from the professional photographers, but the amateurs in our families or friends. The St. Michael Catholic Church asks you to please inform them before the event of these published guidelines to ensure that your wedding is indeed a special day without unnecessarily interruptions or untimely incidents.

8. People standing up during the liturgy to take pictures (e.g., during the scriptural readings; exchange of vows; etc.) not only interrupt the natural flow and distract from the planned activities, but they also invariably block the vision or view of other members of the assembly seated directly behind or next to them.

9. Reverence and discretion are the by-words of the day to insure a pleasant and memorable occasion.

Programs (also referred to as Orders of Service/Worship Aids):

A nicely designed and organized, printed program (in Catholic Churches referred to as “Orders of Service or Worship Aids”) can and often do enhance the gathered assembly’s active and full participation in the liturgy—whether it is the Mass or a service. If you desire to utilize an Order of Service or Worship Aid, we ask that the couple coordinate with the parish’s office or wedding coordinator before it is finalized and sent to print.

(12) (13)
Orders of Service or Worship Aids are ordinarily distributed by ushers or bridesmaids at the entrance of the church to people as they arrive to attend the liturgy. The parish office may have sample programs, from previous weddings, for you to preview.

A Marriage of a Catholic and a non-Catholic:
(An Interfaith Marriage)

Years ago, it was not unusual for a non-Catholic engaged to a Catholic to “convert” to Catholicism prior to the wedding. Often this was done to avoid any conflict that a difference of religion might have presented to the marriage and to the upbringing of their future children.

Today, the situation is somewhat different. While the number of marriages between Catholics and non-Catholics has increased over the past 20 years, more of these couples have decided to maintain their different religious affiliations. The Catholic Church’s own policy for receiving new members (the Rite of Christian Initiation of Adults) is sensitive to this concern and cautions against joining the church only because of an upcoming marriage to a Catholic.

Because faith is an essential element in marriage, the Church has a special concern when people of different faith traditions marry. It is the Church’s concern that the faith of both parties is not hindered or harmed by the union; that each party will respect the conscience of the other; and that the couple will share their faith(s) with their children. To this end, the Catholic party is asked to reaffirm his/her faith, to do all they can continue to grow in their faith and share that faith with their children by having them baptized and brought up in the Roman Catholic Church. The non-Catholic party must be aware of the Catholic party’s intention(s).

Additionally, the parish priest or deacon may be required by the Church’s Code of Canon Law to write to the local bishop to apply for one of the following:

* Permission to Enter into a Mixed Marriage for a Catholic marrying someone who is baptized, but is not a Catholic.
* Dispensation from Disparity of Cult for a Catholic marrying someone who is not baptized.
* Dispensation from Canonical Form is required when someone other than a Catholic priest or deacon is going to receive the consents (vows). Usually, this means that the wedding is going to be celebrated in a non-Catholic Church and the minister that will preside is from a non-Catholic parish.
* Permission to Celebrate the Wedding Outside of a Church is required, as the title states, when the wedding is to be celebrated in a place other than a Catholic Church. This permission is often sought when a Catholic marries a Jew, Muslim, or other non-Christian” (Covino, 16-17). Note, within the Diocese of Colorado Springs and the St. Michael Catholic Church, outdoor weddings or in other than a Church are strongly discouraged—to uphold the appropriate sanctity and reverence due the Most Holy Sacrament of the Eucharist and the Sacrament of Matrimony.
Marriage Celebrations and Liturgical Rehearsals:

As a general practice at St. Michael Parish, the times best suited for marriage celebrations are on Saturdays before 2:00 p.m. Rehearsals are generally held the day before (Friday) at 7:00 p.m. and involves the marriage coordinator, priest/deacon, readers(s); EMHCs; couple, bridesmaids, best-man, escorts, ushers, altar servers, etc. Generally, the practice lasts for approximately 1 hour. Please plan rehearsal dinners accordingly.

MASS CONSIDERATIONS

Who may receive Holy Communion?

To share in eating the bread and drinking from the cup of the Eucharist is the preeminent sign of unity for Christians. It is the most intimate experience of union with God and with one another in the church’s tradition. This is the meaning of the word “communion.” Unfortunately, the current situation among Christians is one of disunity. There are Protestant, Orthodox, and Roman Catholic Christian churches, rather than one Christian Church.

The guidelines for communion in the Catholic Church reflect this sad and unfortunate situation. Since the various churches are not united, it would be a false sign for Catholics to share the Eucharist with non-Catholics. … Because a shared inter-faith (Catholic and non-Catholic) communion is not permitted within the Catholic Church, a wedding Mass in not encouraged when a Catholic marries a non-Catholic—so as to not be a sign of disunity in a sacrament designed to focus on the unity of the couple.] A wedding outside of Mass is just as complete [as one celebrated in the Mass].

In 1993, the Vatican issued a new ecumenical directive, which allows local bishops to permit a non-Catholic spouse to receive communion at his or her wedding. In this case, the non-Catholic spouse acknowledges the teaching of the Catholic Church regarding the Eucharist; that is, that Christ is really present in the [consecrated] Eucharistic bread and wine. Discuss this option with the parish priest if you are interested in pursuing it for your wedding.” (Covino, 46-47)

CONSIDERATIONS IN DECORATING

The Environment of the Wedding Liturgy:

Tradition and culture have imported signs, symbols, customs, gestures, and rituals into every church liturgy—including marriage. Some help us to actuate or emphasize the importance of the sacrament and marital unity, while others are outdated and tend to confuse or interrupt the liturgy. “Tradition is the living faith of the dead [literal insistence of traditionalism is the dead faith of the living].” (Covino, 103)

When we use the word “environment” concerning church liturgy, we are referring to the larger space in which the main activity or actions of the liturgy will occur. A rule of thumb for decorations, lighting, acoustics, etc., is that they need to express a sense of décor, reverence, and be of conservative number, design and beauty. They are to be emplaced so as to not interfere with the movement(s) of the ministers and assembly. After all, it is the assembly of gathered people who genuinely create the mood or environment for your wedding.

The temptation of traditionalism is probably no-where more difficult to overcome than in creating an environment for the ‘perfect’ wedding. Simply put, in our culture a great deal of money rides on keeping certain customs intact and an engaged couple overspending. However, you know from your own experience that when you are guests in someone’s home, it is not the lavishness of the surroundings or the richness of the food that makes for a memorable occasion. Rather, what matters most is the care with which all is prepared, and the attention given to you as guests. Hospitality is primary.
Rice/Birdseed/Balloons/Bubbles: Because of safety concerns, rice and birdseed are not permitted in the St. Michael Catholic Church or on the church grounds. Balloons are permitted outside of the building, but may not be brought inside.

Candles: Altar candles will be provided by the church. A unity candle may not be part of the ceremony; as it is a secular not liturgical symbol. The use of candelabras within the wedding ceremony is likewise discouraged within the church.

Decorations: You may find the sanctuary already decorated for a given liturgical season of the church year. Please plan to decorate the sanctuary around (without moving or rearranging) decorations that are already in place.

Flowers: Flowers may be placed on the sanctuary floor. You are invited to do this before the ceremony starts please. To decorate pews with ribbons and/or flowers, please use loops of ribbon to hang around the top or edge of the pew. Please do not use tape, pins, or nails of any kind—as these methods can damage the pew surface(s). Note: The St. Michael Parish does not have wedding pew decorations for you to use. Often times, decorations/flowers can be set up before or after the rehearsal. We ask that you please coordinate this with the parish’s marriage coordinator.
CHECKLIST OF REQUIRED ACTIONS & DOCUMENTS

___ The wedding should be scheduled with the parish office at least one year before the anticipated actual date and the one-year marriage preparation process started.

___ A celebrant must be chosen. At the St. Michael Parish, the priest or deacon can assist you with this if needed. An initial meeting with the parish priest/deacon will need to be scheduled.

___ Both Catholic party(s) will need a newly issued baptismal certificate (within 6 months of the date of the wedding).

* This certificate is to be obtained from the parish of baptism. It is one of the proofs of your freedom to marry, which the Church requires. It is the responsibility of the engaged couple to obtain this documentation. The parish office can assist in obtaining addresses and telephone numbers of other Catholic churches, if/as needed.

___ The engaged couple will each need a witness, usually a parent or sibling, to attest to their freedom to marry.

___ Speak/meet with the parish’s FOCCUS couple or coordinator.

___ Documentation of completion of FOCCUS training.

___ Speak/meet with couple/team hosting the Natural Family Planning (NFP) classes.

___ Documentation of completion of Natural Family Planning (NFP) classes.

___ Speak/meet with the couple/team hosting the Marriage Preparation classes.

___ Documentation of completion of Marriage Preparation classes.

___ Speak/meet with the couple/team hosting the Engaged Encounter weekend or equivalent.

___ Documentation of completion of Engaged Encounter weekend or equivalent.

___ Speak/meet with the Marriage Coordinator and parish Music Coordinator (if needed), at least 4 to 6 weeks before the wedding, to make arrangements for:

___ Readers/Proclaimers.
___ Extraordinary Ministers of Holy Communion.
___ Altar servers
___ Musicians (organist/pianist, cantor, etc.)
___ Obtaining a list of fees for the cantor, organist/pianist, etc.
Final meeting with parish priest/deacon (no later than one month prior to the wedding).

* All required documents must be prepared and submitted to the priest/parish office.

A newly issued baptismal certificate within 6 months of the date of the wedding (obtained from the church of baptism).

Regardless of the faith of BOTH the bride and groom-to-be, pre-nuptial testimony and testimony from a witness is needed for each party; testifying to their freedom to marry.

For an Interfaith Marriage, a diocesan document of approval (handled by the St. Michael Catholic Church Pastor).

The FOCCUS questionnaire and evaluation.

Proofs/certificates of completion for Engaged Encounter; Marriage Preparation classes and Retreat(s); Natural Family Planning (NFP) classes; etc.

* This is the time to also discuss the details of liturgy and your choice of scriptural readings with the priest/deacon.

The engaged couple will need to obtain a marriage license from the County Clerk’s Office, sometime during the 30 days prior to the marriage. PLEASE bring the marriage license to the rehearsal and give it to the priest, deacon or parish wedding coordinator. Without the physical marriage license, your wedding cannot legally occur.

* Upon completion of the ceremony, the parish office will imprint the license with our church’s official seal and send it to the County Clerk’s Office for recording. The County Clerk’s Office will then send the certificate of marriage to your home address.
